METHODIST CHURCH

You are invited to attend our regular services Sunday. We speak especially to the membership who have been kept away in recent weeks, because sickness and bad weather has crossed your path and necessarily interrupted your church going, you should not ask God to further excuse you when recovered.

The general theme for the eleven o'clock service is, "Life's Heart Gripping Risk." We like the game of chance. Those who have risked their all for Christ have not been wanting for thrills nor disappointed in their rewards.

Our Sunday School meets at 9:45 A. M. Those of your class will be looking for you. The evening services will begin at 7:45 instead of 7:30 and the Leagues at 7:00. Please note these changes and be with us at these hours.

You will note the announcement of our revival services on March 22nd, in this issue of the Hamlin Herald. Further announcements will be made next week.

H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

P. S. We approached a few of the businessmen of Hamlin for assistance in putting out our Church Bulletin during the meeting; they responded readily, so we will again have the Church Bulletin for distribution this Sunday A. M. Thanks to these big hearted men.

"EXTRA GIRL"

When Texas Centennial Exposition officials began to select the Rangerettes, hostesses for the Exposition, they planned to have one who was born in each of the 48 states. Then along came Mabel Rooks, shown above, and she passed the strict requirements. Officials found later she had been born in the District of Columbia, so they increased the corps to 50, giving themselves a little leeway in the matter of states.

PUPILS TO BE PRESENTED IN RECITAL

Jacqueline Mathis and Francis La Verne Shelbourne are to be presented in expression recital at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 19 at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Alton Clemmer, in South Hamlin.

J. C. Turner, Marvin York Jr. and Ray Willingham Jr. students in Baylor University, are at home to spend a short vacation with their parents and friends.

Otto Berlin, according to Richard Lehman is giving lots of his time to "Dallas." Really the Strauss force is growing a bit suspicious and may be jealous of "Dallas." Some think Otto is playing society, and why not?

Announcement has been made by Arlie Cassle, president of the Lions Club, that Dr. Gaffney, "Master Magician" and his own Company will present a performance in the Hamlin High School on Thursday, March 19 at 8:00 o'clock. This attraction, well known through out the country where it has given performances under the auspices of civic, fraternal and educational organizations for the past 17 years is generally recognized as one of the most outstanding attractions of its kind. Dr. Gaffney and his assistants present many of the very latest and most baffling illusions and mysteries of modern time. They carry their own scenery, equipment and effects valued in excess of $8,000.00 and will be used at the performance in Hamlin. This attraction is being brought here by the Lions Club for the benefit of charitable service and the tickets are priced very reasonable for this attraction. Adult 25 cents. School children, 15 cents. This attraction comes to the city with the endorsement of the Press, and Educators from the hundreds of cities where it has been presented many times. Dr. Gaffney is justly entitled to that which is acclaimed by his many admirers as "The Most Beloved Entertainer in America."

AIR EXPRESS MADE ONE DAY DELIVERY CLEVELAND, O.—HAMLIN, TEX.

By means of telegraph and airplane, Curtis Martin, one day last week, obliterated space between Hamlin and Cleveland, Ohio.

Curtis Martin, the Hatchery King of West Texas, and perhaps of all Texas, recently doubled his hatching capacity and ordered the big Smith Incubators from Cleveland.

When they arrived some essential minor parts were not delivered. A telegram started the parts from Cleveland at 1:15 P. M. Thursday, March 5 and they were delivered in Hamlin at 12:40 P. M. Friday, March 6th.

Manager Stubblefield of the Express Co., is elated over their Air Express Division and why not? Think of it—a hen lays an egg on Thursday and before mid-afternoon on Friday—hatchery machinery in Cleveland, four hours after the egg was laid, is in Hamlin "all het up" making a chicken of that egg. Some speed that!

SENIORS ARE HARD AT WORK AGAIN

Those Seniors, are the funniest people! They seem to just love work. The Senior Staff has just finished about six weeks of hard work on the Annuals. We were very ably assisted by Miss Thompson, who is also a glutton for punishment, and aren't we glad we have such a grand Sponsor? She believes in the old adage that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," s-o-o-o. The Seniors are having a picnic out at the river Thursday evening. Oh, la la and won't we have fun!

Now for the best news of all. You saw what the Juniors could do when they gave their play, about two weeks ago. As bad as we hate to admit it,—it was good; but the Seniors are going to have a "better than best." The Senior play is selected and the cast is picked, but it is a secret for awhile. If you are good boys and girls, maybe I'll tell you all about it next week.

SERVICES AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School begins promptly at 9:45. We would like to have three hundred present. If every one who reads this will come and bring some one with them, we will go beyond this number.

At the eleven o'clock hour, the pastor will speak from the subject of "GET ACQUAINTED WITH GOD." We believe you will enjoy this message.

Our Convention was all that could be asked for. We want to thank every one who helped in any way to entertain our visitors while they were here. Many offered their homes who did not receive a guest, but we thank you just the same. We appreciate the many kindnesses shown the church by several business firms. May God bless each and every one of you.

NOTED CHRISTIAN JEW TO BE WITH OUR CHURCH FOR THE EVENING SERVICE

You will enjoy hearing this man of God. Come and bring your friends.

HABITS RULE US

JUDGING OTHERS

Thrift is a habit. A habit is a thing you do unconsciously or automatically, without thought. We are ruled by our habits. When habits are young, they are like lion cubs, soft, fluffy, funny, frolicsome little animals. They grow day by day. Eventually they rule you. Choose this day the habit you would have to rule over you. The habit of thrift is simply the habit which dictates that you shall earn more than you spend. In other words, thrift is the habit that provides that you shall spend less than you earn. Take your choice.—Elbert Hubbard.

Last week the Herald carried an item saying Dr. Joe McCrary and family were visiting in California, while all the time Dr. Joe was here in Hamlin busily plying his dental trade. This information was given to the Herald as a pre-news item, and while most items of the pre-news type work out O. K., this one did not. The only explanation Dr. McCrary will offer, is that because of the "hobo restriction" in California, he was turned back at the border. His friends know better, they know he did not get beyond the border of Hamlin. The Herald has learned, on good authority, Dr. McCrary and family were packed up bag and baggage ready to start for California, and unexpected circumstances prevented the trip. The doctor says the trip is not off, just delayed to a later date. When he goes, we will try to tell you. No harm done in this item—it would have been too bad had it been a marriage or death notice, some times the wedding does not happen and sometimes the patient does not die.

If this story has a moral, it should be: "Be careful what you tell a newspaper woman"—with the aid of printers ink she can surely spread the news.

It's Not Too Cold in Dallas

It may be snowing in the East, freezing in the Midwest and a blizzard may be coming out of the Northwest, but in Dallas, where the Texas Centennial Exposition will be held next year from June to December it wasn't too cold for Mary Ellen Logan to try the waters of White Rock Lake. With her is Carolyn Durham, chief of the Exposition's Rangerettes, a corps of 50 hostesses.

Speedboat, sailboat and outdoor motor races will be held on White Rock, just outside of Dallas, next July and August as part of the Exposition's elaborate sports program.

Baby ate it like a man."

MODERN WAYS of Cooking Fish

BECAUSE the baby in the Mother Goose rhyme was man enough to eat it is no reason for mothers to go on and on frying fish. There are other more healthful and delicious ways of preparing them, highly recommended, unless you happen to be a connoisseur of the art of frying—which so few of us are.

Even broiling and baking fish should be done with a knowledge of the kind of fish to be used, and the best way of broiling or baking it. Dry-meated fish, such as cod, haddock, pollack, and hake, are better adapted for broiling, steaming, stewing or making into a curried dish, for they will keep their shape and not fall to pieces in the process of cooking. Oily-meated fish, such as salmon, shad, mackerel, herring, lake trout and whitefish, are preferable for quick modes of cooking, by the hot oven method.

Don't Overcook Fish

It is well to remember that fish, in general, do not require the slow cooking used for many varieties of meat because its connective tissue is more tender than meat tissue, and overcooking extracts the juices and dries out the fish.

Canners have done extensive research into the proper methods of cooking fish, with the result that housewives order certain fish in cans because they realize that home-cooking cannot equal the perfection with which they are cooked.

Canned salmon is a striking example of this. More salmon is sold in cans than any other fish.

While it is possible to broil or bake salmon very nicely, few people, other than famous hotel and restaurant chefs, have ever achieved near perfection in doing so. Canned salmon, on the other hand, comes to us always lovely in color, tender, juicy, its oils well blended into the salmon texture. Housewives, therefore, have given their time and thought to the many ways to serve salmon.

The following salad and soufflé provide a new and delightful addition to the ever-lengthening list of good salmon dishes.

Nice for Parties

Metropolitan Salmon Salad: Chill the contents of one 7-ounce can of salmon. Open and put the salmon in a small bowl lined with crisp lettuce, being careful not to break up the fish. Mix one-fourth cup mayonnaise with one tablespoon thick sweet or sour cream, one teaspoon vinegar, one tablespoon chopped celery, one tablespoon chopped pimiento, one teaspoon capers and one teaspoon relish. Spread over the salmon. This serves three persons.

Salmon Soufflé: Turn the contents of one 10½-ounce can of strained cereal into a double boiler and heat. Then add the contents of one 1-pound can of salmon which has been flaked, and three tablespoons of butter. Add the beaten yolks of three eggs and salt to taste. Fold in the three stiffly-beaten egg whites and pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for thirty to thirty-five minutes. Serve at once. Serves eight persons.

ter. Furthermore, our gasoline sold in Ohio in winter is not the same gasoline sold in Florida in winter.

"Gasolines that are ideal for quick starting in cold weather may be quite inferior in hot weather. To insure perfect performance and the highest mileage throughout the country and at all seasons, That Good Gulf Gasoline is 'Kept in Step with the Calendar'—hence all of it goes to work—none of it goes to waste."

WOULD PROTECT BANKING FIELD IN RURAL AREAS

American Bankers Association
Announces Purpose to Combat
Return of Excessive
Number of Banks

CITES LAX CHARTER POLICIES IN THE PAST

Finds a Chief Cause of Bank Failures
Was Too Many Banks—Existing Sound Banks Serving
Communities Well

NEW YORK. — Existing sound banks, especially the small banks in the rural districts which are serving their communities well, should be protected from any return of the over-banked local conditions caused by former lax chartering policies, which were mainly to blame for the unfavorable failure record of the past, says the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. This is brought out in a report covering an investigation by the commission of bank failures and public policies in chartering banks.

"The Commission's study gives an impressive revelation of how great a part mistaken public policies in the chartering of banks played in creating the unsound banking structure which finally collapsed with the Bank Holiday in March 1933," Robert V. Fleming, president of the association, says in a foreword.

"Over-production of banks, literally by thousands, over many years in the face of insistent warnings not only from bankers and others who recognized the danger, but even more so from the mounting records of bank failures themselves, is clearly shown to have constituted as a whole one of the greatest single economic errors in the history of the Nation."

A Recurrence Feared

He refers to fears of a recurrence of over-banking recently expressed by Federal banking authorities, to the powers given the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation by the provision of the Banking Act of 1935 over the admission of banks to membership in the insurance fund, to strengthened state laws and to the policies now being followed by both national and state supervisory authorities aimed to safeguard the nation against over-banking.

"But sound laws and conscientious officials are not of themselves always sufficient safeguard in any field of our complex national life unless they have the active support of public opinion," he adds. "It is the purpose of the American Bankers Association to aid in marshaling public opinion in support of both national and state supervisory authorities in their efforts to strengthen and protect the banking structure."

The Economic Policy Commission summarizes its findings in part as follows:

"The facts show a distinct causal relationship between the over-chartering of banks and the abnormal bank failure conditions that prevailed from 1920 to the bank holiday in 1933. It is desirable that studies be made on the basis of experience to develop standards governing the number of banks or the volume of bank capital which can be successfully operated."

"Such a study would embrace the question whether banking facilities can best be supplied to the rural districts by small unit banks or by branches from banks of substantial capital in larger centers. Existing sound banks, which are serving their communities well should be protected from any return of the over-banked local conditions caused in the past by lax chartering policies."

Banking Officials Queried

"An inquiry among state bank commissioners shows a preponderant opinion against increasing materially the number of banks, coupled with the fact that present laws give them sufficient discretion to prevent a repetition of the grave errors of the past."

"Under prevail" abnormal conditions, with the Federal Government extensively exercising loaning powers in competition with the banks, and with industry itself so largely supplied with funds as to render it to a great degree independent of normal bank borrowing, the banking structure even with its present reduced numbers, finds it difficult to support its existing capital investment and operating personnel."

"These are new factors, intensifying the need for highly prudent and restrictive chartering policies. We urge the retirement of the Federal Government from the banking business as rapidly as the return of normal business conditions warrant."

Conference on Banking

NEW YORK. — An eastern states conference on banking service will be held by the American Bankers Association in Philadelphia January 23 and 24 as a part of the organization's nationwide program on banking development, it has been announced.

Robert V. Fleming, president of the association, will preside over the meetings. It is stated that this conference will be the first of several to be held in various parts of the country presenting a program the details of which are now in the course of preparation.

The general topic of the conference will embrace the managerial, legislative and operative problems confronted by all classes of banks. An outstanding phase of the meetings will be the development of plans for promoting a general better public understanding in regard to bank functions and policies.

ON TEXAS FARMS

BY
MINNIE FISHER CUNNINGHAM
Extension Service Editor

Roses are a feature of Grimes County rural yard improvement since 228 home demonstration club women put out 4,325 rose bushes last spring.

A rose garden placed for enjoyment when in the outdoor living room is part of the landscape plan of Mrs. Sam Inglet, yard demonstrator in Montgomery County. Soil, into which one-third as much well-rotted manure and leaf mold was spaded was prepared for this rose bed.

Rose cuttings set out by Mrs. J. E. Manning of Dallas County, last spring have developed into bushes almost equal in size to three year old plants. Mrs. Manning attributes to the thorough preparation given the soil before she planted the cuttings. Rotted straw and manure were plowed into the bed until the soil was very loose. It retained its moisture all summer for this reason.

Pruning is something many rose fanciers argue about. Mrs. O. B. Harkey, yard demonstrator in San Saba County prunes her radiance roses this way—she selects four to six of the very best shoots and cuts out all the rest. Then she prunes the selected canes to from six to twelve inches high.

WHEN hungry young folks stage a late evening raid on the cake box, you'll hear no complaints if they find a treasure trove of coffee cake.

Of course you have your own coffee cake recipe — but there's always room for one more good one.

Nut Crumb Coffee Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 3 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 1 cup milk; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

2 tablespoons sugar; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ cup soft bread crumbs; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 2 tablespoons chopped walnut meats.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together well. Add flour, alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into greased pan 9x9x2 inches. Combine sugar and cinnamon, mix with crumbs, and add melted butter and nuts; sprinkle over cake. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes.

MANY of us feel that macaroons, like beauty, need no adornment. But if you have any chocolate enthusiasts in your family, they will vow that chocolate flavor means the last word in macaroons.

Chocolate Macaroons
2 egg whites; 1 cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon vanilla; 1½ squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1½ cups shredded coconut.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout; add sugar, ¼ table-spoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Add salt and vanilla. Fold in chocolate; then coconut. Drop from teaspoon on ungreased heavy paper. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Cool 5 minutes before removing from paper. Makes 2 dozen 1½ inch macaroons.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT

We believe the interest of the poultry industry could be greatly revived if people would keep a flock record of their hens. Did you ever keep a record, know just how many hens you have, and just how many eggs they lay each day, each month and each year?

It's a great work and if you will begin to keep a record of your flock it will just naturally cause you to look after them more closely.

I have a simple way of keeping the record of my flock. Here it is: In the evening we gather the eggs, bring them in and count them and on the wall is a large calendar; the number is filed on this each day. When the record for that month is complete, the total for the month is added together. The total number of eggs for the month is divided by the number of hens, which gives you the monthly average per hen.

It's best to keep a record of each week, what your eggs bring you also your expense bill. Charge mash and grain and milk. Charge them 1c a gallon for their milk, deduct expense at end of month from what your eggs brought you, and you have the prof-

Milestones of American Genius

Marking the grave of a great American President, at Oyster Bay, Long Island

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

BORN with physical handicaps that might have made an ordinary man a ne'er-do-well and weakling, Theodore Roosevelt became for his countrymen the very symbol of the "strenuous life." With physical vigor he combined mental leadership and a vibrant patriotism.

At his birth in New York City, on October 27, 1858, Roosevelt was a delicate, near-sighted babe who all through his boyhood seemed destined to a life of inactivity. Fortunately his family was able to give him the best of care and his was a character that refused to be hampered by obstacles. He trained in gymnastics, horsemanship and managed to build himself into the Rough Rider who was to thrill the country with his exploits.

His devotion to nature study persisted throughout his life. It is this side of his many-faceted career that was particularly memorialized in the impressive New York State Memorial Building and monument which were formally dedicated to him on the grounds of the American Museum of Natural History in January, 1936. The monument is the work of James E. Fraser, a sculptor who has done much to make the features and character of Roosevelt familiar to a new generation.

Roosevelt began his political career at the age of twenty-three, as State Assemblyman. From that time forward he was a potent factor in the political life of his State, serving it in many capacities, including that of Governor, both before and after the Spanish-American War. In that conflict he won additional glory as Colonel of the Rough Riders who made the dramatic charge up San Juan Hill.

The assassination of President McKinley in 1901 made Roosevelt, then Vice-President, our Chief Executive at forty-two—the youngest man ever to hold that exalted office. He filled the post with characteristic vigor until 1909, distinguishing himself especially for his defense of the common people against the large trusts. His courage won the admiration of friends and enemies alike. In 1912 he ran again for the Presidency on a third-party ticket, but was defeated.

To the day of his death, January 6, 1919, President Roosevelt was active in the affairs of the country. At the same time he undertook important explorations and many significant books. He was buried in the cemetery near his home, at Oyster Bay, Long Island, and his grave marked by the stone shown in the sketch, is the scene of annual pilgrimages by thousands of admirers.

TIME For Play TODAY

ALL work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. But it makes Jill practically impossible. Women who have gone so berserk about work that they've forgotten how to have a good time are usually also poor workers.

"But with so much to do staring me in the face—" That was a good line a decade ago, but it's no alibi today. Housework has become simpler, for canning has taken the drudgery out of cooking and if we can't find time to play something—bridge, golf, ping-pong, tidle-de-winks—then it's just too bad.

Canned Mixed Vegetables

One of the newer and very welcome aids to busy housewives is the coming on the market of canned mixed vegetables. Sometimes called vegetables for salads, these diced mixed vegetables find many other delightful uses. They are invaluable for soups, for scalloped vegetable dishes, vegetable and meat pies—their uses are legion! Keep plenty of cans of them on your shelves; save your meat juices and gravies, and see how easy it is to have a delicious meat and vegetable soup in practically no time.

If you have a weakness for vegetable pies, here's one worth talking about:

Tomato Vegetable Pie: Drain the contents of one No. 2 can of mixed vegetables for salad into a buttered baking dish and pour over the vegetables the contents of a 10½-ounce can of tomato soup. Roll out baking powder biscuit dough, cut in rounds, and place on top of the vegetables. Bake for fifteen to twenty minutes in a hot oven. This serves eight persons.

SWEDONIA CLUB NEWS

Growing Asparagus: Asparagus is a general tonic for the kidneys, nerves and brain. Therefore everyone should cultivate a taste for it.

As an asparagus bed doesn't have to be made oftener than every 10 or 15 years, one should do a good job of preparing the soil for it. Asparagus will stand heat well and can stand drouth or high water. Alkali in small amount don't hurt it. So, there isn't any excuse for not growing it at home. As it is a good price in the market, it might help out with expenses.

Sandy loam soil is best and should have plenty animal and green manure added to it the year before planting. Soil should be porous and well drained but plants can stand submerged in water several days and recover.

To get straight stalks the soil should be free of stones and clay which bakes in hard clods, and the young shoots can not push through easily.

On very light soils the plants should be set 10 to 12 inches deep. On heavy soils from 6 to 9 inches. Roots work toward the top. Spring is the best time to plant and should be early enough to get full benefit of the growing season. Rows should be 4 to 6 feet apart and plants 18 to 24 inches apart. The row should be a furrow 6 to 12 inches deep. Cover plants with two inches of soil and as shoots grow draw in the soil. At the end of the year, the furrow should be level. One year old plants are best. Seed are hard to germinate and 2 year old plants are no better than 1 year old ones. Mary and Martha Washington varieties are best because they are more resistant to disease.

Let the plants grow one or two years before beginning to cut the shoots. The shoots are grown from food stored in the roots the previous year. Then, after the cutting season is over, add some fertilizer to help the organic matter in the soil. Proper cultivation is essential and irrigation adds to the productiveness. Water every 2 weeks if possible. If not, have your asparagus bed anyway. The first season cutting should be only 3 weeks long but grows long as the plants age.

Cut the young shoots just before the buds open. Cut 2 inches under the soil putting knife straight down, so the young shoots not in sight won't be damaged. Cut shoots when ready whether needed or not as it will encourage more to come. Green asparagus is more valuable as a food than the white just as any colored

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Crit Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
